EDUCATION

Princeton University

Princeton, NJ

Ph.D., Sociology, specialization in Demography, June 2001

- NIH Training Grant Pre-Doctoral Fellowship
 - 1998 Charles Westoff Prize in Demography

University of Virginia

Charlottesville, VA

M.A., Sociology, January 1993

Adrian College

Adrian, MI

B.A., summa cum laude, Sociology, Economics minor, December 1990

- Trustees Scholarship
 - LeGrande Smith Scholarship
 - Associate Trustee, Board of Trustees

EXPERIENCE

2009- Georgetown University

Washington, DC

Present Senior Research Investigator

- Serve as the primary data manager, statistical programmer, and analyst for a large-scale biosocial survey (Study of the Environment and Biomarkers of Aging Study, SEBAS).
 - Lead research studies investigating relationships among the social environment, biological markers, and health outcomes in the elderly population.
 - Collaborated on numerous other publications, either as the co-author in charge of programming and analysis or as an advisory co-author (e.g., for consultation regarding research design and methods, interpretation of the results, and editing).

[Also worked as an independent contractor for Georgetown University for eight years prior to employment.]

1996- Research Consulting

CA, NJ

Present Provide technical and analytical assistance with social, demographic, and health research.

Examples of consulting engagements:

- Designed statistical programs to implement standardized tabulations for all datasets being analyzed by various team members; constructed key indicators; and produced time-series estimates for the State of Longevity Project at Stanford University.
 - Developed an innovative method for calculating deaths attributable to smoking in high-income countries (collaboration with researcher at University of Pennsylvania; the work was published by the National Academy of Sciences).
 - Analyzed data from the Current Population Survey regarding the demographic profile of employees in the food services industry for the National Restaurant Association.
 - Calculated patterns of teen sexual activity and contraceptive use based on a national survey and combined those results with population estimates in order to project the number of teen pregnancies averted due to contraceptive use for a study funded by the California Wellness Foundation (collaboration with researchers at the University of California, San Francisco).

EXPERIENCE (continued)

2002-	University of California, Berkeley	Berkeley, CA
2009	Research Demographer
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Coordinated activities of research teams in Berkeley, New York, and Germany working on the Human Mortality Database (HMD) project. • Managed day-to-day operations related to database development, design of the web interface (www.mortality.org), and subsequent expansion of a data series that now serves more than 30,000 users. • Collected, assessed, and documented the quality of mortality and population statistics for six countries. • Led research studies related to mortality using data from the HMD and similar sources. [Also served as an independent consultant on the HMD project for nine months prior to employment.]
1996-	Division of Research, Kaiser Permanente	Oakland, CA
1997	Senior Analyst
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Worked as a SAS programmer in cooperation with a seven member research team to build a diabetes registry that integrated data from multiple administrative sources. • Inspected survey results from more than 75,000 members with diabetes for logical inconsistencies. • Served as liaison to a key client.
1993-	Child Trends, Inc.	Washington, DC
1995	Research Analyst
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Collaborated with other researchers to design and implement statistical analyses for publications related to child and family well-being. • Provided programming and analytic support to lead investigators and supervised research assistants.

OTHER PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES

Member, Panel on Understanding Divergent Trends in Longevity in High-Income Countries, National Academy of Sciences, 2008-2010

Member, National Institutes of Health, Scientific Review

- Special Emphasis Panel for the Social Science and Population Studies Study Section (R01), 2009
- Psychosocial Stress and Behavior: Integration of Behavioral and Physiological Processes (R01), 2011
- Development of Comprehensive and Conceptually-based Measures of Psychosocial Stress (R21), 2011
- Regional and International Differences in Health and Longevity at Older Ages (R01), 2011
- Research and Methods in Health Statistics (RFA SH16-001), National Center for Health Statistics (R03), 2016

Expert reviewer for an NIA-sponsored Census publication, 2011

OTHER PROFESSIONAL ACTIVITIES (continued)

Member, International Outreach Committee, Population Association of America,
2013-Present

Member, Population Association of America, 1997-Present

Referee for: Annals of Behavioral Medicine, Aging and Mental Health, Archives of Gerontology & Geriatrics, Biomarkers, Demography, Economics and Human Biology, European Journal of Population, Experimental Gerontology, International Journal of Epidemiology, Journal of Gerontology: Social Sciences, Journal of Population Research, Lancet, Mechanisms of Ageing and Development, Neuropsychiatric Genetics, Population, Population and Development Review, Population Studies, Preventive Medicine, Research on Aging, Social Science & Medicine, and Ashgate Publishing.

COMPUTER SKILLS

Statistical programming: Stata, SAS, SPSS, R/S-plus, MLwiN, BUGS

Other software: MS Office (Word, Excel, Powerpoint, Publisher, Outlook), RefWorks, Adobe Acrobat, HTML, QuickBooks
